

Ed Pardini

Ed Pardini, Mediacom's Senior Vice President of its North Central Division, has been involved in cable-television operations since 1983. Within the North Central Division, Pardini is responsible for all aspects of Mediacom's video, high-speed data, and telephony business which delivers advanced telecommunication services available to more than 2 million homes in Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and Kentucky, Arizona, and California.

Prior to joining Mediacom, Pardini served as a Senior Regional Vice President for Comcast, the nation's largest cable operator, with responsibilities covering more than 2.2 million homes in Philadelphia, Eastern Pennsylvania and Wilmington, Delaware.

Before joining Comcast, Pardini held financial management positions with two other cable operators, Greater Media Cable and Viacom Cable. In these roles, Pardini oversaw the financial controls, budgeting, and financial planning efforts of systems in Cleveland, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, and Long Island.

Pardini is a cum laude graduate of the State University of Buffalo, with a B.A. in English and a B.S. in Business. Pardini was awarded an MBA in Finance from Hofstra University in 1986.

Pardini currently serves as president of the Iowa Cable Television Association, and is a director of the Iowa Sports Foundation. He is also a member of the Board of Directors of Winefest, a highly popular community event in Des Moines, IA.

The proud father of two young men, Jim and Daniel, ages 22 and 20 respectively, Ed Pardini currently resides in a suburb of Des Moines, Iowa.